

On a bright Mediterranean Saturday 26 November, Church Warden, Mrs Helen Brooking did a wonderful job in organizing and executing our Christmas Market. Several hundred people came through our doors over the three hours on this sunny dry and warm Marseille afternoon. And they found more market stalls than last year, but the same warm welcome. As usual the baked goods stall was constantly busy as was Jo's bottle tombola table where every one-euro ticket was a winner - and every prize was packed in a bottle. On final count it appears the market raised at least 1,250 euros to assist in the All Saints' Church finances.

The crowd of shoppers were quite steady all afternoon.

Always popular was Gaston's mulled wine and mince pies.
